

ASSOCIATION OF ANCIENT HISTORIANS

N E W S L E T T E R

NO. 72

MARCH 1997

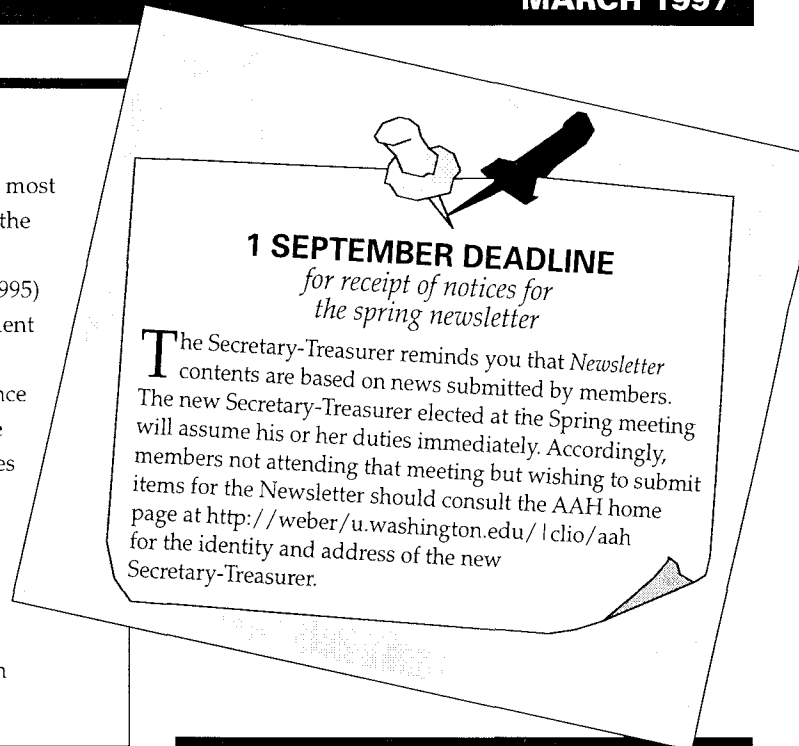

NOTICES

Annual dues are payable on 1 January each year. A member's most recent paid up dues date appears above his or her name on the mailing label.

Anyone whose dues have not been paid for two years (since 1995) will be dropped from the membership/ mailing list. Prompt payment of all dues in arrears will prevent this.

Members are encouraged to prepay dues 2 to 5 years in advance to ensure paid-up status and simplify record-keeping. As postage and printing costs are constantly rising, however, payment of dues more than 5 years in advance cannot be accepted.

Paid-up members of AAH are entitled to a $16.00 (20% discount) annual subscription rate to the American Journal of Ancient History. Write to: AJAH, Dept. of History, Robinson Hall, Harvard Univ., Cambridge, MA 02138. (Please do not direct questions concerning AJAH to the Secretary-Treasurer; the journal is an entirely separate operation.)

1 SEPTEMBER DEADLINE for receipt of notices for the spring newsletter

The Secretary-Treasurer reminds you that Newsletter contents are based on news submitted by members. The new Secretary-Treasurer elected at the Spring meeting will assume his or her duties immediately. Accordingly, members not attending that meeting but wishing to submit items for the Newsletter should consult the AAH home page at <http://weber/u.washington.edu/1clio/aaah> for the identity and address of the new Secretary-Treasurer.

SPRING 1997 ANNUAL MEETING IN SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS

Notices and registration forms were sent to all members in January. The deadline for registration and for reservations at the Menger Hotel, San Antonio, is April 1st. For further information please contact Colin Wells or Pamela Waddell at the Department of Classical Studies, Trinity University, 715 Stadium Drive, San Antonio, TX 78212-7200, tel. (210) 736-7647, fax (210) 736-7305. e-mail: cwells@trinity.edu

MINUTES OF THE 1996 BUSINESS MEETING: Georgia State University, Atlanta, GA

(In view of the presidential election, the Secretary-Treasurer chaired this meeting, where she also presented the annual report, responded to questions that it raised, and simultaneously tried to scribble down notes to produce these minutes. Please excuse any possible omissions — they are not intentional but rather the product of hectic circumstances. — D.D.)

- ☞ The Secretary-Treasurer called the meeting to order and presented her report. Minutes of the 1995 meeting were read. Kurt Raaflaub noted the following correction: the last paragraph of p. 2, col. 1, in Newsletter 69, should have read: "Kurt Raaflaub is collecting information about past annual meetings for the purpose of putting together guidelines for organizers of future meetings and that"
- ☞ "Richard Talbert again raised the matter of making the Newsletter available through electronic mail. The President suggested postponing discussion of this matter until later in the meeting when we would address electronic possibilities in a more general way.
- ☞ Nominations for Secretary-Treasurer were requested for next year.
- ☞ President Carol Thomas reported that our publications are strong. She

A MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT

I suggest that we all could use some of Hesiod's stern counsel, as the academic year races by: "Work, then work harder!" Several of our colleagues have done just that. Thanks to the labors of Michael Arnush, a directory of graduate programs in ancient history will soon be available through Regina Books. A message will be posted to our home page (<http://weber/u.washington.edu/|clio/aah>) when more specific information is available; but, if you are interested and do not use computer communication, please contact me. And the contributions of Gene Borza, Stan Burstein, Ramsay MacMullen, Kurt Raaflaub and Allen Ward should result in two volumes in the PAAH series this calendar year.

Another sort of contribution is solicited: namely, an invitation to host our annual meeting in 2000. (We have been invited to the University of Illinois by Richard Mitchell for 1998 and will receive an official invitation for 1999 at this year's meeting.) Isn't it time to return to Canada or the western U.S.?

Having enjoyed a visit from Colin Wells just recently, I know how pleasant our meeting in San Antonio will be and hope to see you there.

Carol

CALLS FOR PAPERS

The Classical Association of the Atlantic States invites individual and group proposals for its Fall meeting, October 10-11, 1997, at the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia. Individual presentations are limited to 15 minutes, group presentations to 90 minutes. Anonymous abstracts of approx. 300 words, cover letter and a brief c.v. should be sent in triplicate to Prof. R. Leon Fitts, CAAS Conference Coordinator, Dept. of Classical Studies, P.O. Box 1773, Dickinson College, Carlisle, PA, 17013. Inquiries should be directed to Dr. GailAnn Rickert, CAAS Program Chair, Office of Academic Advising, Gettysburg College, Gettysburg, PA 17325. Deadline for submission of abstracts is 2 June 1997.

requested ideas for topics and contributors to add new works to our pamphlet series; forthcoming volumes are by Gene Borza on Macedonia and C. Wells on the army and social change in the early Roman Empire. The auction of three Rostovtzeff posters from Wisconsin, donated by Sherrill Spaar, at the annual banquet was next announced. The President reminded members of the availability of Makedonika and advised that Gene Borza is informally acting as Association archivist and encouraged members to let him know if they have items that might be of interest.

- ☞ The President next introduced Richard Burns of Regina Books, who announced that he is looking for materials in our area, including conference and instructional materials. Regina is paying back to the Association 15% of proceeds from sales of works by Association members that it publishes.
- ☞ The President announced that Konrad Kinzl is assisting her to put together an electronic directory of members, which is now about fifty percent complete, and that Michael Arnush's directory of institutions with graduate programs in ancient history has not received a stellar response. She further advised members that the Association's home page is a good place to check for current information. In response to her observation that Konrad Kinzl, who does the Newsletter for the Classical Association of Canada, knows how the Newsletter might be electronically disseminated, Briggs Twyman noted that this could be accomplished by a program called PINE. The President noted that the Association would like to establish more links. She then suggested formation of an ad hoc committee to investigate additional electronic possibilities (i.e., the Newsletter) and read a note from Joe Scholten concerning the kinds of lists members want and information about who would be moderators of those lists. The President next announced that the Association now has available for anyone who would like to host an annual meeting guidelines prepared by Kurt Raaflaub. We have plans for next year and for 1998, but are uncertain about 1999.
- ☞ On behalf of Colin Wells, Briggs Twyman confirmed Trinity University's invitation to host the 1997 annual meeting. Proposed topics were discussed and members were encouraged to suggest additional panel topics.
- ☞ Richard Mitchell, from the University of Illinois in Champaign-Urbana, invited us to meet there on the last day of April and first weekend of May 1998. The meeting will be held on a large estate with its own mansion, gardens, statues, and walks; there is even a good field for baseball. Overflow will be put up at the nearby town or will shuttle from Champaign-Urbana.
- ☞ The presidential election was conducted and Carol Thomas was unanimously re-elected.
- ☞ OLD BUSINESS: Sherrill Spaar again requested Gene Borza's speech from the previous year's banquet and suggested that we urge him to publish it.
- ☞ NEW BUSINESS: The proposed resolution to carry existing members of the Association whose dues are in arrears for two rather than three years was unanimously passed. In response to the Secretary-Treasurer's expression of concern about rising costs to print our Newsletter and for non-domestic postage, which may occasion difficulties at some later date because more and members are paying dues at the current rate for ten, fifteen or even 20 years in advance, there was much discussion. Advance payment of multiple dues is much appreciated because it saves the Secretary-Treasurer labor. Sarah George Figuera made a motion, seconded by Ramsey MacMullen, that advance payment of dues be capped at five years, while grandfathering members who had paid dues more than five years in advance. In the course of discussion, the general consensus was that the Secretary-Treasurer should exercise her discretion in this matter and that it would be taken under advisement. Sherrill Spaar then proposed abolishing an associate dues rate, but it was voted to postpone consideration of such a measure.
- ☞ Fred Lauritsen expressed thanks to our hosts, Georgia State and Emory Universities, on behalf of the membership.

Respectfully submitted, D.D.
