

THE ASSOCIATION OF ANCIENT HISTORIANS NEWSLETTER

NO. 79

SEPTEMBER 1999

PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

Congratulations to the many colleagues involved in the production of Text and Tradition: Studies in Greek History and Historiography: Mort Chambers, whose 45 years of teaching and research in ancient history are honored by the volume; the co-editors, Ron Mellor and Larry Tritle; the distinguished roster of contributors; and not least the publisher, Richard Burns of Regina Books. Such volumes not only mark the achievement of leaders in our field, but they also serve to remind us of how essential it is for the leaders' positions to be filled again after they retire.

The future presence and vitality of our field depend upon maintaining, and wherever possible expanding, the number of full-time faculty engaged in it. The case for ancient history as pedagogically rewarding, interdisciplinary, international, and rich with fresh opportunities is readily made, but can seldom be taken for granted. Both as committed individuals and as an Association, it is important that we be prepared to argue it with vigor.

Fall Greetings,

Richard Talbert

IN THIS ISSUE:

Conferences	3
Fellowships Available	2
Meeting Grants-in-Aid	7
Nominations for Secretary	2
New Books	6
Obituary	5
Positions Available	4
Personalia	8
President's Column	1
Recent Dissertations	4
Spring Meeting	1

SPRING MEETING PLANS

CALL FOR PAPERS: The 2000 annual meeting of the Association of Ancient Historians will be held in Madison at the University of Wisconsin on May 4-7. Members are encouraged to submit one-page abstracts for papers (maximum 20 minutes) for the following sessions (broadly defined, to include Greek, Roman, Near Eastern and Late Antiquity)

- (1) Rhetoric and Law
- (2) Periodization
- (3) Slaves, Tenants, and Clients

Please mail or fax your abstract to the Program Chair

Andrew Wolpert
Department of History
3211 Humanities Building
University of Wisconsin
455 North Park Street
Madison, WI 53706-1483
FAX 608-263-5302
awolpert@facstaff.wisc.edu

The deadline for submissions is Friday, November 5, 1999.

HOUSING:

The local organizers have reserved blocks of rooms at the four housing facilities listed below. Those attending AAH 2000 are urged to reserve rooms directly with the housing facility, as early as possible. Upon making the reservation, mention the AAH meeting, so that the convention rate is assured. THE COMMON RESERVATION DEADLINE FOR ALL THE HOUSING FACILITIES IS APRIL 3RD, YEAR 2000. After that date rooms may still be available, but the convention rate is not assured.

The four facilities:

- (1) Best Western Inn Towner, 2424 University Ave., Madison, WI 53705. Rates: double $89.00 + tax, single $79.00 + tax. (Tel: 608-233-8778 or 800-258-8321, fax 608-233-1325)
- (2) Madison Concourse Hotel and Governor's Club, 1 West Dayton St., Madison, WI 53703. Concourse Hotel rates: double $109.00 + tax, single $99.00 + tax. Governor's Club rates-- double $149.00 + tax, single $139.00 + tax. (Tel: 608-257-6000, tel. 800-356-8293, fax 608- 257-5280)
- (3) Madison Inn, 601 Langdon St., Madison, WI 53703. Rates [set by State of Wisconsin and subject to change beginning January 1, 2000]: double $62.00 + tax, single $52.00 + tax. (Tel. 608-257-4391, fax 608-257-2832)
- (4) The Lowell Center, 610 Langdon St., Madison, WI 53706. Rates [set by State of Wisconsin and subject to change beginning January 1, 2000]: double $62.00 + tax, single $52.00 + tax. (tel.608-256-2621, fax 608-262-5445)

REGINA BOOKS

Post Office Box 280, Claremont, CA. 91711 Phone 909-624-8466 Fax: 909-626-1345

Regina Books offers the following discounts to AAH members:

Title	Regular Price*	Member Price*
Myth Becomes History: Pre-Classical Greece , by Carol Thomas	$19.95 (cloth) $11.95 (paper)	$16.00 (cloth) $ 9.00 (paper)
Ancient History: Recent Work and New Directions , by Stanley Burstein, Ramsay MacMullen, Kurt Raaflaub, and Allen Ward	$21.95 (cloth) $12.95 (paper)	$17.95 (cloth) $ 9.00 (paper)
Makedonica: Essays by Eugene N. Borza	$37.95 (cloth) $18.95 (paper)	$24.00 (cloth) $12.00 (paper)
A Guide to Graduate Programs in Ancient History by Michael Arnush.	$10.50 (paper)	$ 8.00 (paper)
Polis and Polemos: Essays on Politics, War, and History in Ancient Greece in Honor of Donald Kagan , ed. Charles D. Hamilton and Peter Krentz.	$39.50 (cloth) $19.50 (paper)	$24.00 (cloth) $13.00 (paper)
A Handbook for Ancient History Classes , by Jack Cargill.	$10.50 (paper)	$ 7.00 (paper)
Art and Archaeology in the Mediterranean World , ed. A.L.H. Robkin	$11.95 (paper)	$ 8.00 (paper)
Peacemaking in Medieval Europe: A Historical and Bibliographic Guide , by Udo Heyn	$34.95 (cloth) $13.95 (paper)	$19.00 (cloth) $ 9.00 (paper).

*Plus shipping of $2.50 for the first book and $1.00 for each additional book.

FELLOWSHIPS OFFERED

The Institute for Advanced Study, School of Historical Studies supports scholarship in all fields of historical research, but is concerned principally with the history of western and near eastern civilization, with particular emphasis upon Greek and Roman civilization, the history of Europe, Islamic culture, the history of modern international relations, and the history of art. In addition to these fields, in the academic year 2000-2001 the School will support three Members in the comparative history and culture of traditional China, Japan, Korea, and Vietnam. Qualified candidates of any nationality are invited to apply for memberships. Apart from residence in Princeton during term time, the only obligation of Members is to pursue their own research. If they wish, however, Members may participate in seminars and meetings both within the Institute and at nearby universities, and there are ample opportunities for contacts with other scholars. Approximately forty Members are appointed for either one or two terms each year. The Ph.D. (or equivalent) and substantial publications are required of all candidates at the time of application. Member awards are funded by the Institute for Advanced Study or by other sources, including among others the National

(Continued on page 4)

NOMINATIONS FOR AAH SECRETARY- TREASURER

Nominations are now in order for the office of Secretary-Treasurer of the AAH. The election will be held at the May meeting in 2000.

The current Secretary-Treasurer, Pat Dintrone, has been nominated as a candidate for a second and final term.

Others wishing to make nominations are reminded that nominations must reach the Secretary-Treasurer not later than two weeks before the first day of the Annual Meeting at which the vote is to be taken. Thus, the deadline for nominations is April 20, 2000.

Nominations must be signed by three members of the Association not belonging to the same institution [different campuses within the same university system shall be regarded as being different institutions], and must be countersigned by the nominee. The President and the Secretary-Treasurer shall not belong to the same institution.

PROF. CHAMBERS THANKS AAH

Long-time AAH member Mortimer Chambers of UCLA was recently honored by his friends and colleagues (including the AAH) with a festschrift entitled Text and Tradition: Studies in Greek History and Historiography, edited by Ron Mellor and Larry Tritle. The AAH was represented in the Tabula Gratulatoria at the front of the volume. In response, Professor Chambers writes, "This tribute from the association that includes so many of my colleagues is an inestimable compliment." The festschrift was published by Regina Books.

The Association of Ancient Historians Newsletter is published three times a year by the Association of Ancient Historians, Department of History, San Diego State University, San Diego, CA 92182-8147, and is distributed free to members of the AAH.

OTHER CONFERENCES OF INTEREST

- Prayer, Magic, and the Stars in the Ancient and Late Antique World. March 3-5, 2000, University of Washington-Seattle. A desire to tap into the divine (or demonic) powers of the cosmos, especially those powers linked to the heavens, pervades the history of religion in the ancient and late antique world. This symposium examines the manifold techniques and traditions—both sanctioned and unsanctioned, individual and communal—by which men and women in the ancient and late antique world sought to gain access to that power. To explore this topic, we have invited a group of speakers whose expertise ranges from ancient Mesopotamian astronomy and astrology to the Christian magical papyri of early Islamic Egypt. Other topics we hope to explore at the symposium include astral cults; temple rituals; prayer and sacrifice; the use of sacred or magical texts; the power of words; philosophical conceptions of the heavens; and the relationship between sanctioned and magical methods of accessing the divine. We especially encourage submissions from recent Ph.D.'s and advanced graduate students. Jonathan Z. Smith of the University of Chicago will deliver the keynote address for the colloquium. Scheduled Speakers: Chris Faraone, Greek religion and magic; Sarah Iles Johnston, Greek and Roman religion; Marvin Meyer, early Christianity; Michael Morony, Magic and Society in Late Sasanian Iraq; Robert Ritner, Egyptian magic and religion; Francesca Rochberg, Mesopotamian astronomy and astrology; Mark Smith, Northwest Semitic astral religion; Michael Swartz, Judaism in late antiquity, heavenly ascent, ritual studies. For more information about the symposium, please see <http://weber.u.washington.edu/~snoegel/stars.html>. Send abstracts (up to 750 words) to Dr. Scott Noegel, Department of Near Eastern Languages and Civilization, Box 353120, University of Washington, Seattle, WA 98195

- The annual Edson Lectures at the University of Wisconsin-Madison will be presented on October 19, 1999. The lectures are "The Politics of Redaction: Apocalyptic Reframing of the Court Tales in the Book of Daniel" by Sara R. Johnson (Univ. of Connecticut-Storrs) and "Humor and Irony in Diaspora Texts" by Erich S. Gruen (Univ. of California, Berkeley).
- The Third E. Togo Salmon Conference, "Samnium: Settlement and Cultural Change," will take place at McMaster University October 1-2, 1999. Contact Howard Jones <jonesh@mcmail.cis.McMaster.CA> for additional information.

- The Classical Association of the Canadian West and the Classical Association of the Pacific Northwest will be holding a Joint Annual Meeting in Victoria, British Columbia at the Laurel Point Inn on Friday, March 10 and Saturday, March 11, 2000. Laurel Bowman and Ingrid Holmberg of the University of Victoria are the conference organizers.

"Cultural Diversity in the Ancient World" is the broad theme of the conference, reflecting the conference's own international nature. Papers are particularly encouraged on topics related to this theme. Submissions are invited, however, on all subjects of special interest to classicists. The organizers also welcome organized panels.

Abstracts of 100-150 words must be received by October 15, 1999. CACW members are asked to submit a brief (1 page or less) CV with their abstracts for inclusion in a SSHRC grant proposal. Participants will be notified by December 1, 1999. Abstracts can be submitted to CACW/CAPN Conference, c/o Department of Greek and Roman Studies, University of Victoria, P. O. Box 3045, Victoria, B. C. CANADA V8W 3P4; FAX 250-721-8516. Abstracts submitted by mail or FAX must be supplemented by a disk. Abstracts may also be submitted by e-mail: lbowman@uvic.ca (CACW); ingrid@uvic.ca (CAPN) or Internet <http://web.uvic.ca/grs/cacw-capn>. Please put your OWN name on the subject line for e-mail submissions.

Please indicate any special equipment you may need to present your paper. Papers should not be more than fifteen minutes in length. Abstracts of papers will be published on the conference website at <http://web.uvic.ca/grs/cacw-capn> and in the Fall 2000 CAPN Bulletin. Detailed information regarding the conference schedule and accommodations will be published in the February issue of the CAPN Bulletin and on the websites.

AAH PROGRAMS AT AHA

The AAH will sponsor two sessions at the American Historical Association meeting in Chicago in January. All AAH members who will be attending the AHA are strongly encouraged to attend these sessions.

The sessions are:

Friday, January 7, 2:30-4:30, "A Home of Our Own—Late Antiquity and the Study of Ancient History." Organizer and Chair, Elizabeth Digeser. (Marriot, Purdue Room)

Saturday, January 8, 9:30-11:30, "Current Concepts and the Study of Ancient History." Organizer and Chair: Carol Thomas. Presenters: Stanley Burstein, Nancy Demand, Ian Morris, Lawrence Tritle. Comment: Eugene Borza. (Sheraton, Erie Room)

Please mark your calendars and plan to attend these sessions.

THREE MEMBERS OF AAH RECEIVE AUSTRIAN CROSS OF HONOR

Three distinguished Austrian-born ancient historians—the late Antony Raubitschek of Stanford University, Ernst Badian of Harvard University, and former APA President Erich Gruen of the University of California at Berkeley—have been awarded the Oesterrichisches Ehrenkreuz für Wissenschaft und Kunst/Austrian Cross of Honor for Science and Art in recognition of their outstanding contributions to scholarship and teaching.

Professor Raubitschek received his award on March 30, 1999 at Stanford from the Austrian consul in Los Angeles. Professor Badian traveled to the Austrian Embassy in Washington, DC for his award ceremony on May 19. Professor Gruen will receive his award from the Austrian consul in Los Angeles, at an award ceremony in Berkeley to be held later this year.

---

Fellowships Offered (Continued from page 2)
Endowment for the Humanities whose support will enable three U.S. citizens to take up full-year memberships, and the Thyssen Foundation which will support two German citizens. APPLICATION may be made for one or two terms (September to December, January to April). Further information and application materials may be obtained from the Administrative Officer, School of Historical Studies, Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton, New Jersey 08540 (e-mail address mzelazny@ias.edu). Completed applications must be returned to the Administrative Officer by 15 November 1999.

Mellon Fellowships at the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton. Open to promising scholars who have served 2-4 years as assistant professors in institutions of higher education in the US and Canada and who will return to those institutions after the one-year period of the fellowship. Stipend will match applicant's current salary and benefits. Apply to the address given above. Completed applications are due November 15, 1999.

POSITIONS AVAILABLE

Assistant Professor of Classics (Ancient History)-- Definite. The Department of Classical and Semitic Languages and Literatures at the George Washington University invites applications for a full-time non-tenure-track position in ancient history under 3-year contract (renewable) at the rank of assistant professor, to begin in AY 2000-2001. The candidate is expected to teach 3 courses per semester. These courses must include the history and civilization of Greece, Rome, the Near East and Egypt. Depending upon candidate's qualifications, other courses may include Mediterranean and ancient near Eastern archaeology or Greek or Latin language. Required: PhD in appropriate field awarded by June 2000; sound training in historical methodology; mastery of at least one relevant ancient language; demonstrated teaching ability. Expected starting salary: mid $40s.

Send letter of application, dossier including three letters of reference (especially addressing teaching experience), and a publication or writing sample to Prof. Elizabeth A. Fisher, Phillips 345, The George Washington University, Washington DC 20052 (tel. 202-994-6125). Review of applications will begin November 15 and will continue until the position is filled. The GWU is an AA/EOE; applications from qualified women and minorities are especially encouraged.

The Department of History at Texas Tech University is seeking to make a tenure-track appointment at the rank of assistant professor, specializing in Greek and Roman history, to begin in Fall 2000. Candidates will be expected to have completed a doctorate in History or an equivalent course of study by September 2000. They should be able to teach Western Civilization, advanced undergraduate courses in Greek and Roman history, and graduate history courses pertaining to their research specialties.

Please send application materials to Professor John Howe, Chair of the Greek/Roman Search Committee, Department of History, Texas Tech University, Lubbock TX 79409-1013. A completed application should include an introductory letter, a curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation, and representative samples of scholarly work. All items are due by November 12. E-mail inquiries can be sent to john.howe@ttu.edu. Texas Tech University encourages applications from women and minorities.

University of California, Santa Barbara seeks a tenure-track assistant professor in Ancient Greece, effective July 1, 2000. Research specialty may cover any part of the Greek-speaking world to AD 800. PhD normally required at time of appointment. Teaching obligations are 5 courses per year; UCSB is on the quarter system. Courses include the lower division survey of Western Civilization and specialized upper division and graduate courses. Send c.v. and arrange to have three letters of recommendation sent by November 15, 1999, to Greek Search, Department of History, University of California, Santa Barbara, CA 93106-9410. Unsolicited material cannot be returned. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply, including minorities and women. AA/EOE.

RECENT DISSERTATIONS

J. Scott Perry, A death in the family: the funerary colleges of the Roman empire (UNC, Chapel Hill, directed by Richard Talbert).

William Morison, Attic Gymnasia and Palaistra Inscriptions from the Archaic Period to 336/5 BC (UC Santa Barbara, directed by Frank Frost).

Antony Erich Raubitschek 1912-1999

The basic facts of A.E.R.'s life and career have already been detailed in other obituaries: his training in Vienna and Athens; his tenures at the Institute for Advanced Study (1938-1942), Yale (1942-1947), Princeton (1947-1963) and especially Stanford (1963-1999); his professorships and awards, including the Austrian Cross of Honor for Science and Art just this year; his numerous publications, including the now classic Dedications from the Athenian Akropolis produced in collaboration with Lilian Jeffery (1949). Many properly note his influence as a teacher as well as a scholar of renown. And that is where emphasis will be placed here; in particular, his relationship with his graduate students. For I became one of them when we both arrived at Stanford in the fall of 1963.

Most great teachers are insightful, organized, energetic, and interested in the progress of their students. A.E.R. was surely all of those things. Above all he was supportive, often tenaciously so. Long after his retirement, in fact only months before he died, he was still actively promoting his students in today's wretched job market. In the process he often employed devilishly clever arguments why, for example, a Greek epigrapher was suitable for a position in Augustan poetry. But his perpetual willingness to go the extra mile was only one reason why so many of us came not merely to appreciate him but to love him.

Trained in the severe Germanic tradition, A.E.R. could himself be severe, though he mellowed as time went on. His methods were not to everyone's taste. Indeed, he was a close, sometimes almost controlling task master who was particularly effective with students, like myself, needing strong direction. But for all, he was a constant source of thought provoking ideas, especially on historical subjects. In true Central European fashion he often managed to come up with notions no one this side of Austria would think of: some zany, many brilliant, all of them stimulating.

An unusual practice was his habit of leaving his office open for students to consult his library. He was also quite ready to loan us his personal books and offprints, many of them hard-to-access publications in German. Fittingly, such loans were always accompanied by the earnest admonition "You will be especially careful, won't you."

Though Greek historical investigations were A.E.R.'s forte, his curiosity was limitless. In fact, he always found time to discuss virtually any topic having to do with classical antiquity, or even the Byzantines. Once, when he was showing me some of the texts he had used in his gymnasium and university days, he told me of his interest in Latin poetry. This revelation, in confidential undertones, was prompted by a Propertian elegy on some melancholy topic that had caught my eye. Inscribed in the margin in his distinct handwriting was the notation "Ich weiss genau wie Du Dich fühlst."

A.E.R.'s preoccupation with democracy, Athenian and American, was a constant reminder that, like many immigrant academics of his generation, he was forever marked by the numbing experiences of a Europe run amuck. Perhaps for this reason he regarded the inscribed decrees produced by the Athenian Demos as something akin to sacred relics. On one occasion, when asked the point of studying an especially fragmentary specimen, he replied sharply that only those who had always enjoyed the blessings of free government could ask such a question.

It was characteristic of the man that he never stopped thinking, revising his opinions, and questioning others. I remember one colleague who, years after leaving Stanford, remarked on coming away from a visit with A.E.R. that he felt as though he had just retaken his orals. The most casual conversation with him was apt to evolve into serious discussion on a major matter. At our last meeting, after initial pleasantries, A.E.R. asked whether he might put to me a personal question. I must have had a quizzical look on my face, but to my reply in the affirmative he asked "Tell me, do you believe in free will?"

A.E.R. was the product of a different age and of a university system which is quickly fading from memory. He lived frugally, spoke with a foreign accent, gave scant thought to the latest fashion trends in dress and manner, and displayed--one might even say celebrated--his individuality to the point of eccentricity. And yet, remarkably, he remained a relevant and compelling educator to the end of his days. It is no exaggeration to say that he attained mythical status while he still lived. Now that he is gone, his uniqueness increases the sense of his loss all the more.

Larry Bliquez

ATTENTION RECENT GRADUATES (and their dissertation directors)

AAH would like to publish the authors and titles of recent dissertations completed in Ancient History.

If you have recently completed a dissertation (or recently finished directing one), please send an e-mail with the name of the author, the title, the school, and the director to patricia.dintrone@sdsu.edu or mail to the return address on this newsletter.

NEW BOOKS

Christopher Blackwell, In the Absence of Alexander: Harpalus and the Failure of Macedonian Authority (Peter Lang, 1998).

Frederick E. Brenk, Clothed in Purple Light: Studies in Vergil and in Latin Literature (Franz Steiner Verlag, 1999).

William Dunstan, The Ancient Near East (Harcourt Brace, 1998). [Kenneth Harl (Tulane University) recommends that this book is an excellent accompaniment to a textbook on Ancient Greece for members who teach a combined Ancient Near East and Greece course.]

Garrett G. Fagan, Bathing in Public in the Roman World (University of Michigan Press, 1999).

Frank J. Frost, Plutarch's Themistocles: A Historical Commentary (rev. ed.) (Ares Publishers, 1999).

Frank J. Frost, Dead Philadelphians (Capra Press, 1999). [“a crime thriller. . .much of the action takes place in Crete and involves a secret archaeological site.”]

W. V. Harris, ed., The Transformations of Urbs Roma in Late Antiquity (Journal of Roman Archaeology, Suppl. 33) with contributions by AAH members Alan Cameron and Michele Salzman.

Jeffrey D. Lerner, The Impact of Seleucid Decline on the Eastern Iranian Plateau: The Foundations of Arsacid Parthia and Graeco-Bactria (Stuttgart: Franz Steiner Verlag, 1999).

Ronald Mellor, The Roman Historians (Routledge UK, 1999)

M.C. J. Miller, Abbreviations in Latin (Ares Publishers, 1999).

Senatus Consultum de Pisone Patre, text, translation, photos, discussion (American Journal of Philology Special Issue, Spring, 1999. Johns Hopkins University Press).

James Sickinger, Public Records and Archives in Classical Athens (UNC Press series Studies in the History of Greece and Rome).

Jeffrey Tatum, The Patrician Tribune: Publius Clodius Pulcher (UNC Press series Studies in the History of Greece and Rome).

Carol G. Thomas and Craig Conant, Citadel to City State: The Transformation of Greece, 1200-700 BCE (Indiana University Press, 1999).

CLASSICAL ATLAS TAKING PRE-ORDERS

As many of our members know, a new classical atlas has been under preparation for some time. As it now nears completion, information on how to pre-order what is to be called the Barrington Atlas of the Greek and Roman World (sponsored by APA, published by Princeton U.P.) is now available on its webpage: http://www.unc.edu/depts/cl\_atlas. Publication will be in Sept. 2000, but preordered copies will be supplied earlier.

AAH INFORMATION FORM

Check boxes that apply:

- Change of address (or use the on-line form at <http://rohan.sdsu.edu/dept/cbaweb/UPO/aah/update.html>)
New or renewal membership  Regular ($7.50/year)
 Associate ($5/year*) (*Associate membership is available only to students, retired professors, and non-residents of the U.S. or Canada)

New member  Renewal Most recent year paid (from mailing label) _____

Payment enclosed: $ _____ for _____ years (limit 5 years in advance)

Additional donation enclosed: $ _____. (For meeting subvention fund  Yes  No)

Check appropriate title (furtherst left box will be used on your address label)

Prof.  Dr.  Ms.  Mr.  Other: _____

Last name: _____ Other names: _____

Mailing Address: _____
_____

City: _____ State or Province _____ U.S. 9-digit Zip _____ - _____

Other Postal Code _____ Country (non-North America) _____

DUES INFORMATION

- Annual dues are $7.50/year for regular members and $5.00/year for Associate members (students, retired, and non-residents of the US or Canada). Dues may be paid up to 5 years in advance. Payments received in 2000 can cover years up to and including 2005.
- The year for which you most recently paid dues can be found as the first line of your mailing label. Members are dropped from the mailing list after three years of non-payment of dues. Therefore, if your mailing label says 1996 or earlier, your membership will lapse at the end of December.

AAH MEETING GRANTS-IN AID

Thanks to the continued generosity of our members and friends, it will be possible to continue financial support to several younger members who wish to attend the annual meeting at the University of Wisconsin this coming May 4-7.

Two or three awards of $200.00 each will be available. Applications are accepted from members of the AAH; senior members are encouraged to bring this announcement to the attention of graduate students or junior colleagues who are potential members. The procedure for application is as follows:

1. Applicants must be advanced graduate students pursuing degrees in ancient history or faculty holding initial ( untenured) positions.
2. Applications should contain a curriculum vitae, brief letter stating the applicant's interest in attending the meeting, and one letter of support.
3. The deadline for receipt of all materials is FEBRUARY 15, 2000. Results will be announced by mid-March in order to give awardees adequate time to make arrangements to attend the meeting.

This year's selection committee consists of Gene Borza, Patricia Dintrone, and Janice Gabbert. The three indicated items should be sent to: Prof. Eugene Borza, 5 Chantilly Court, Mechanicsburg, PA 17055.

Association of Ancient Historians
Patricia Dintrone, Secretary-Treasurer
Department of History
San Diego State University
San Diego, CA 92182-8147

PERSONALIA

Professor Ernst Badian has been awarded an honorary Litt.D. by the University of Canterbury (New Zealand).

Profs. Michael Maas (Rice University) and Richard Talbert (UNC, Chapel Hill) will be co-directing a NEH Summer Seminar for College Teachers entitled "Representing Geography and Community in the World of Imperial Rome" at the American Academy in Rome from 12 June to 21 July 2000.

William Morison will be Visiting Assistant Professor in History at Utah State for 1999/2000

Prof. F. J. Navarro (Universidad de Navarra, Pamplona) will be a Visiting Scholar at UNC, Chapel Hill, from Sept. 1999 to Feb. 2000. He is currently researching the presence of Roman senators in the cities of Italy and the provinces during the Early Empire.

Prof. Robin Osborne (Oxford, U.K.) has joined Profs. Peter Rhodes (Durham, U.K.) and Richard Talbert (UNC, Chapel Hill) as co-editor of the UNC Press series Studies in the History of Greece and Rome.

Nathan Rosenstein has been awarded an ACLS fellowship for 1999-2000 to study war, agriculture, and the family in mid-Republican Rome.

AJAH DISCOUNT

Paid-up members of the AAH are entitled to a 20% discount on an annual subscription to the American Journal of Ancient History. Write to AJAH, Dept. of History, Robinson Hall, Harvard University, Cambridge, MA 02138. (Note: AJAH is not an AAH publication and the Secretary-Treasurer has no information about it; please direct all questions to the Secretary of AJAH.)

DECEMBER 1
is the deadline for items for the Winter Newsletter.
Remember: the Newsletter depends upon information provided by members.

