President's Column

Plans for the upcoming annual spring meeting, jointly sponsored by Duke University and the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, are complete. The program for the meeting begins to the right of this column and is continued on p. 4. Registration, Travel and Hotel information are on pp. 5-6. The link to the online registration is at: <http://sites.google.com/site/aah2012meeting/home>. (p. 5). The Registration form for those preferring to register by mail is on p. 6, and members are encouraged to register early. Friday's sessions will be at UNC Chapel Hill, and culminate with a special session dedicated to the late Ernst Badian and the History of the Roman Republic. Saturday's sessions will be held at Duke University, also capped by a special session on Sir Moses Finley and "The Making of an Ancient Historian". There will be a special address at the Banquet by Charlotte Roueché (King's College, London). The final session will be held Sunday morning at the Durham Marriott. Tolly Boatwright, Fred Naiden and Richard Talbert have put together a truly spectacular program and I look forward to seeing you at the meeting.

On other matters, note the call for applications for Grants-in-Aid from the Association's Subvention Fund on p. 7. I would like to call on members who may not as yet contributed this year to the Association's Subvention Fund to consider doing so. It is a vital part of the continued good health of our Association. Announcements about the PAAH series (a list of AAH publications appears on p. 2) and a call for applications for grants from the Scott R. Jacobs fund on p. 3. Also a call for nominations for the office of Secretary-Treasurer for the Business Meeting this year appears on p. 3, along with the requirements for that nomination. There are also some notes from Cindy on p. 9.

There is a special circular from Michiel Swormink-Klein at De Gruyter Publishing. De Gruyter and the Association, following up on questions from the Business meeting last year, are exploring the possibility of launching a new ancient history journal, detailed on p. 8, and have posed a few questions for the membership. There is a specific e-mail address to reply to this that will help assess the possibilities for this venture. Please note that this DOES NOT require either a financial commitment on behalf of the Association as a whole or members individually (i.e. NO mandatory subscriptions).

One notes with sadness the passing of two of our colleagues: Valerie French, of American University, and Emmet Bennett of the University of Wisconsin. Fuller notice will appear in the Spring Newsletter.

News from and about colleagues

The editor solicits items of interest to members. Notices of publications, honors received, dissertations defended, etc., are all appropriate for this section. In addition, letters to the membership on subjects of general concern to members and/or our organization are solicited and will be printed, space permitting. All submissions are subject to editing for length.

In memoriam

Valerie French: Valerie French, Associate Professor of History at American University, died suddenly at her home in Washington, DC on December 8, 2011, at the age of 70. A pioneer in the study of women and children in the ancient past, she single-handedly sustained the study of ancient history at AU, and was a pillar of the Washington, DC Society of Archaeological Institute of America. Recipient of numerous teaching awards, she also served in a variety of administrative positions. (a full notice will appear in the Spring newsletter)

Further notes from and about colleagues will appear in the Spring newsletter.

Please note that nominations are in order for the office of Secretary-Treasurer of the AAH for the three-year term commencing at the end of the Business Meeting of the 2012 Annual Meeting. The incumbent is eligible for reelection, has indicated she is willing to serve, and has received the requisite nominations. A candidate becomes eligible for election when three members in good standing—each employed at separate institutions—submit written nominations to the current Secretary two full weeks in advance of the 2012 Meeting and the candidate indicates a willingness to serve.

The publications committee is pleased to report that sales of the PAAH volumes 9 and 10 continue to be brisk. Members wishing to adopt PAAH volumes as textbooks should contact Richard Burns at Regina directly (p. 2) to let him know in advance how many copies you expect to need. We expect to announce several new developments at the May meeting in Chapel Hill. The publications committee reminds members that we are seeking suggestions for future PAAH volumes and you do not have to edit a volume just because you suggest we undertake it. Please contact Lee Brice (ll-brice@wiu.edu) or Lindsay Adams (winthrop.adams@utah.edu) with suggestions.

The Scott R. Jacobs Scholarship Fund at the Tanner Humanities Center of the University of Utah announces the establishment of subvention grants for doctoral students and junior faculty, designed to encourage research travel and scholarship on Alexander the Great, as well as on his contexts and legacy. The Jacobs Fund solicits proposals involving support for: research travel; giving papers at scholarly conferences; whole sessions at established conferences; and conferences dedicated to Alexander the Great and the subjects mentioned. Consideration of proposals for 2012 will be semiannual, with deadlines of April 1st and November 1st to better accommodate quicker funding of individual proposals. Persons interested should submit Proposals, Budget and short CVs in Microsoft Word documents electronically to Winthrop Lindsay Adams at winthrop.adams@utah.edu or on disc sent to the following address: W.L. Adams; Department of History (room 310); 215 So Central Campus Drive; University of Utah; Salt Lake, City, UT 84112-0400.

Attention Graduate Students and Junior Faculty of Ancient Greek, Roman, and Near Eastern History
The Association of Ancient Historians

invites applications for grants-in-aid

for the purposes of underwriting travel expenses of graduate students and junior faculty who want to attend the annual meeting of our Association to be held at Duke University, Durham, NC and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, NC.

Applicants are not required to present papers.

From 2004 through 2011, the AAH awarded a total of $8875.00 to 35 candidates, about half of whom presented papers.

We invite you to sample the atmosphere of our annual meeting and join this unique association of Ancient History professionals.

We do not stand on ceremony; we are founded on collegiality.

We want you to know more about us.

Submit a letter of application, vita, and one letter of recommendation by February 10, 2012 to:

Dr. Cindy Nimchuk

History Department, Mailbox 165

Mercyhurst College

501 East 38th Street

Erie, PA 16546-0001

All applicants for the subvention must be members of the AAH at the time of their application and state in the letter why they want to attend the meeting. Letters of recommendation should establish a lack of alternative funding. Graduate student applicants must be advanced and actively seeking a degree in Ancient History. The AAH welcomes all individuals to membership and attendance at AAH events. The subvention account is separate from the AAH general fund and is funded entirely by earmarked donations.

De Gruyter and the Association of Ancient Historians are exploring the idea of starting a new journal uniquely devoted to the study of ancient history. The journal would aim to provide a forum for scholarship covering all aspects of ancient history and culture from the Archaic Period to Late Antiquity (roughly the ninth century BCE through the sixth century CE). The journal would publish peer-reviewed articles concerning the history and historiography (ancient and modern) of the ancient Mediterranean world and of neighboring civilizations in their relations with it. The journal will be explicitly open to submissions in disciplines closely related to ancient history, including epigraphy, numismatics, religion and law. It is also envisioned that the journal will contain a review essay section for long comparative reviews of recent publications on a certain topic as well as feature official communications of the Association of Ancient Historians.

The inception and success of a new AAH-affiliated ancient history journal will depend on your approval and support of the idea as members and as potential authors and subscribers. We would therefore like to put the following four questions to you and would greatly appreciate your feedback:

1. Do you support the idea of a new ancient history journal affiliated to the AAH?
2. Would you be willing to submit your work to the journal?
3. Would you, as a member, be willing to pay $25 for an annual subscription to the journal? [N.B., this will NOT be part of the AAH dues, but a voluntary subscription]
4. Would you recommend your academic institution to subscribe to the new journal?

Please reply by emailing your response to jah@degruyter.com.

Additional comments are welcome.

Notes from the Secretary's Pen

My apologies for the lateness of the newsletter. As many of you know, I have been undergoing treatment for cancer, and the effects have sidetracked my life.

Thank you again for all your good wishes!

The many notices I have received will be in the Spring newsletter, so stay tuned for updates on colleagues, courses, and calls for papers. Also check our website for current information on conferences.

This newsletter primarily provides information on our upcoming annual meeting, hosted by Duke University and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Check pp. 1 & 4 for the program, p. 5 for the accommodations information, and p. 6 for a mail-in registration form.

Note that the date for the subvention applications is now February 10th! Please encourage junior faculty and graduate students to apply (p. 7).

Please also take the time to consider the survey on a new Ancient History journal (p. 8).

Cheers
Gindy Nimchuk
