

THE ASSOCIATION OF ANCIENT HISTORIANS

NEWSLETTER 10

September 1977

1. PRESIDENCY

The term of the president, Chester G. Starr, will expire during the Association's next meeting at the University of Colorado (May 5-6, 1978). Nominations for the new president should reach the secretary not less than two weeks before the start of the meeting, i.e. by April 20. Nominations must be signed by three members of the Association not belonging to the same institution (provided that different campuses within the same university system shall be regarded as being different institutions) and countersigned by the nominee.

2. THE OTTAWA MEETING

The 1977 meeting seems to have been enjoyed as much as its predecessors. The secretary can vouch for the enjoyment and edification of Ottawa members and herself and would like to thank once again the acting secretary-treasurer and chairman of the organising committee, Colin Wells, who made the meeting possible and supervised every detail of its planning and running, despite many other heavy commitments.

At the business meeting, the president reported on the healthy state of the Association, which has over 300 members and has now been recognised by the American Historical Association. Members voted to accept the kind invitation of the University of Washington to meet at Seattle in 1979 and of the University of Cincinnati for 1980.

3. THE FIRST SUMMER INSTITUTE

The Association's summer institute project was triumphantly launched at the University of Michigan this July. Professors Eadie and Starr report that they were impressed by the eagerness, industry and ability of those who participated. There will be a fuller report in a later newsletter.

4. 1978 MEETING AT THE UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

The meeting will take place on May 5 and 6 at the College Inn adjacent to the campus. Registration will begin on the evening of May 4 and will continue on the morning of May 5. There will be four sessions on the mornings and afternoons of May 5 and 6, with two speakers and one chairman for each session. The sessions, several of which have now been fully planned, will be on 5th century Athenian imperialism, Alexander the Great, Hellenism in Palestine and Roman History. The University will, through the generosity of its President, pay for one night's lodging for all registered members.

The members will pay for additional nights' lodging; the current rates (which will probably increase by next May) are $16.00 for a single and $24.00 for a double room. Members are encouraged to arrange to stay in double rooms since there are not very many singles available. The University will also offer a cocktail party and a dinner to all registered members of the Association free of charge on the evening of May 5, and the Classics Department at C.U. will host a cocktail party on the evening of May 6. Members will pay for all breakfasts and lunches, which will be available in the College Inn (cafeteria style). Hunter R. Rawlings III, to whom members should address any correspondence about the meeting (Department of Classics, University of Colorado, Boulder, Colorado, 80309) assures us that Boulder should be at its best in May. Further information will appear in later newsletters.

5. THE AMERICAN JOURNAL OF ANCIENT HISTORY

The Editor of the American Journal of Ancient History is very grateful to members of the Association for the splendid support they are giving the Journal by subscribing to it. He would urge those who are supporting it with their own money to make sure that their institutions also subscribe : we are still far from paying our way.

Worse still : the supply of publishable contributions (i.e. contributions recommended for publication by two expert readers) is inadequate. Those who want the Journal to continue -- and this applies to senior as well as junior colleagues -- are strongly urged to support it with their scholarly as well as with their financial contributions. If we do not get enough material of sufficient quality, we shall be forced to reduce the volume, since the alternative (publishing what is judged not to deserve publication) is unacceptable. Speedy publication, at present, is assured, once an article is finally accepted.

6. PERSONALIA

Robert Owen Edbrooke, Jr., will be Visiting Assistant Professor this year at Iowa State University. Bruce Holle has accepted an appointment at the University of Kentucky. Alan Cameron (Bedford College, London) has been appointed to the Chair of Latin at Columbia. Alan Watson (Edinburgh) is visiting the Law School of the University of Michigan this fall. N.G.L. Hammond is at the University of Wisconsin. In Canada, Tom Carney has moved from the University of Manitoba to the Department of Communication Studies at the University of Windsor. Konrad Kinzl is on leave from Trent University and is at present in Athens. Colin Wells will spend the winter quarter (January to March 1978) at Berkeley, replacing Erich Gruen, who is on sabbatical. In Oxford, there will be three new fellows in ancient history this term, Peter Derow (who, as we noted in the last newsletter, moves from Toronto) at Wadham; Alan Bowman (who was at the Institute at Princeton last year) at Christ Church; Robin Lane Fox at New College. George Forrest succeeds Tony Andrewes as Wykeham Professor of Ancient History.

7. SUBSCRIPTIONS

The list of members appended to this newsletter will enlighten those who are uncertain whether they have paid up for 1977, or indeed 1976. In the next newsletter, we shall ask for 1978 subscriptions. It would simplify the secretary-treasurer's work considerably if members who find that they are in arrears would refrain from paying their 1977 (or even 1976) subscription until then and would remember to send a form (which will be supplied in the next newsletter) with their cheques. Some members will be pleased to find that they have already paid for 1978.

Members are also asked not to send 1978 subscriptions to AJAH yet.

8. FLORILEGIUM. CARLETON UNIVERSITY ANNUAL PAPERS ON CLASSICAL ANTIQUITY AND THE MIDDLE AGES

In the Spring of 1978 Carleton University will publish the first volume of an annual devoted to the ancient and mediaeval cultures of Europe, North Africa, and the Near East.

This publication is not intended to compete with Canadian or American journals already established in these fields. Although material of a traditional kind will not be excluded from consideration, interest will be centred primarily upon papers which take a cross-cultural or interdisciplinary approach to history, literature, art, and other relevant areas of study, which explore the continuities between the ancient and the mediaeval world, and which try to develop new methodologies or adapt those developed by other disciplines. There will be no book reviews.

Papers may be submitted for consideration in English, French, or Latin. They will be adjudicated by two referees. In the event of disagreement, a third referee will be called upon to decide. If papers are submitted in two copies, they will be adjudicated more quickly. Normally they should not exceed forty to forty-five pages in total length, typed double spaced. Greek type and line drawings should be kept to a minimum and half-tone illustrations entirely excluded; notes should come at the end of the text.

A style sheet will be made available to prospective contributors on request; if papers accepted for publication do not conform to the house style, contributors will be requested to revise their papers accordingly. Galley proofs will be sent to contributors, though editorial changes must be kept to a minimum. Authors of published papers will receive three free copies of the relevant number of the Annual. Offprints will be available at cost.

Publication date of the first volume of the Annual is planned for May/June, 1978, at a price of $10 per copy of 200 to 250 pages.

During the subsequent year (i.e., May/June, 1978, to May/June, 1979) the editors will also be interested in receiving comments and discussions upon any of the papers published in the preceding issue. If a sufficient number of these is received, up to three news-sheets communicating this material (edited where necessary) will be circulated during this year free of charge to subscribers and contributors. This will provide a forum for continuing and rapidly published discussion, something which classicists and mediaevalists lack.

CONTRIBUTIONS suitable for publication in the Annual are to be sent to the Co-Editors, Room 215, Paterson Hall, Carleton University, Colonel By Drive, Ottawa, Ontario, Canada, K1S 5B6.

EDITORS : R.C. Blockley, Department of Classics, Carleton University.
D.J. Wurtele, Department of English, Carleton University.
